

Joint disease in Dogs

– more common than you may think

Did you know?

- 1 in 5 dogs suffer from joint disease
- Recognising symptoms early can improve the success of long term treatment
- You can nutritionally manage joint disease and overall health with a single diet

Early signs of joint disease can be subtle and may seem more like behavioural than physical changes - such as sleeping more or less enthusiasm for walks or play. These signs may be seen as the normal “ageing” process but there is often more than meets the eye. Pets hide symptoms of pain and discomfort so early treatment can help them feel more comfortable as well as slow the progression of the disease. Early nutritional joint support can also delay the need for pain medication.
